1971 CHIEFTAIN
West Georgia College
Carrollton, Ga.

"For every action there is an opposite and equal reaction." Somebody said this; I can't remember who. But I suppose whoever he was, he was right. I mean to almost everything there are two sides — there is a right and a wrong, a smile and a frown, a sigh of relief and cries of excitement, a tear and a laugh and so on. I'm glad it's that way — I'd hate to smile all the time.

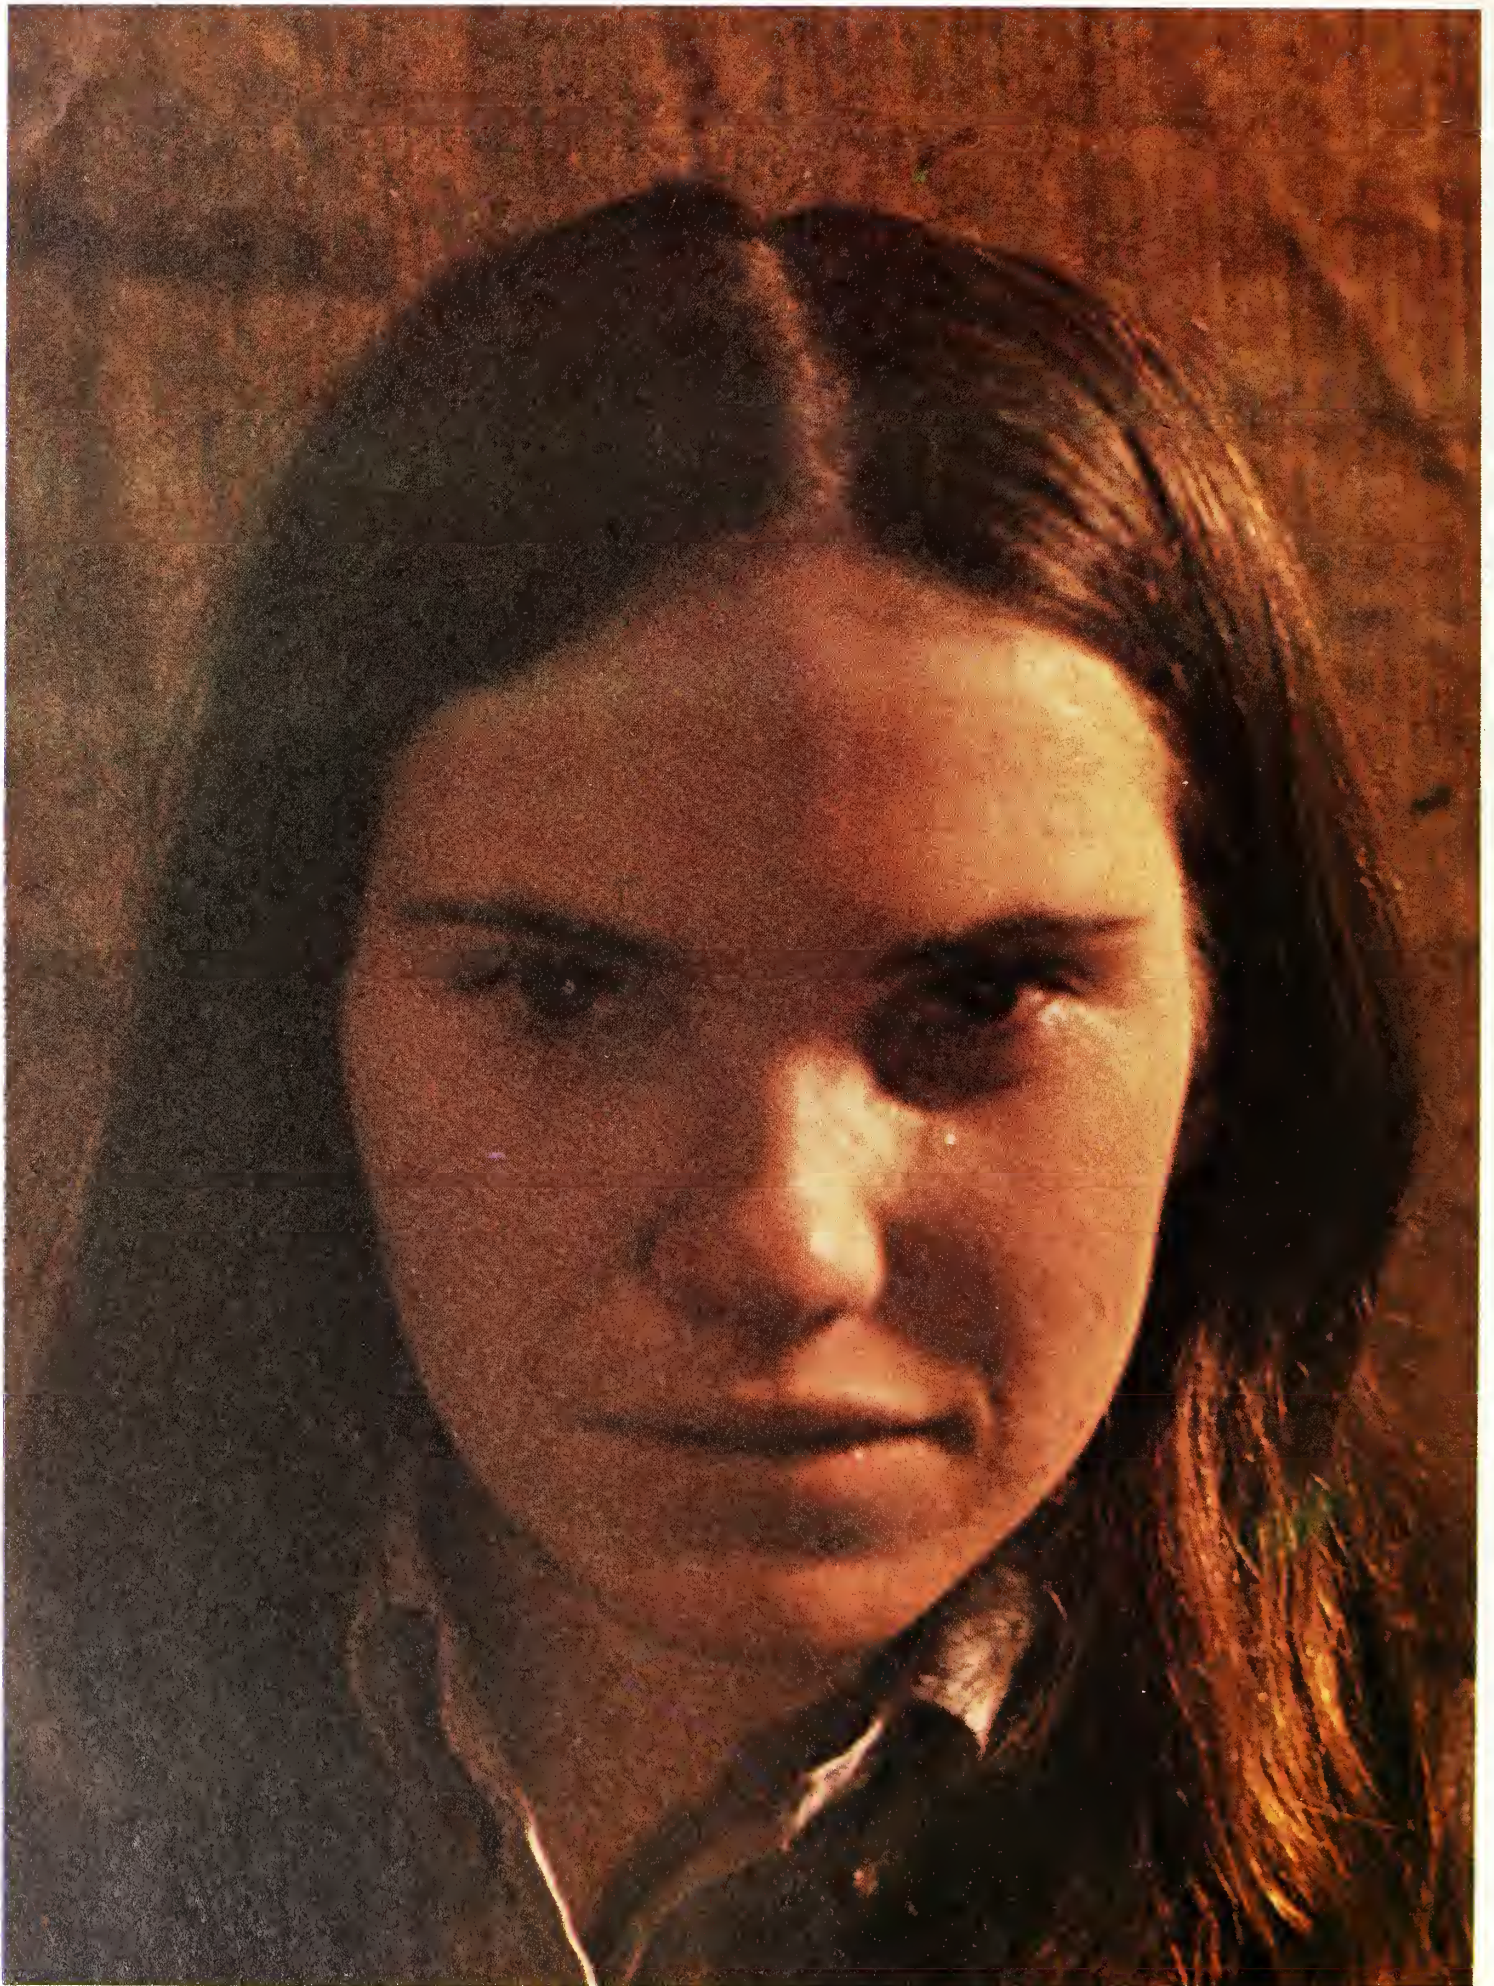

Sometimes I have been so happy that I have stood in the middle of the room and thrown all my books and papers into the air, not really caring where they came down or if they came down at all. Really, the mess is a very small price to pay for personal satisfaction.

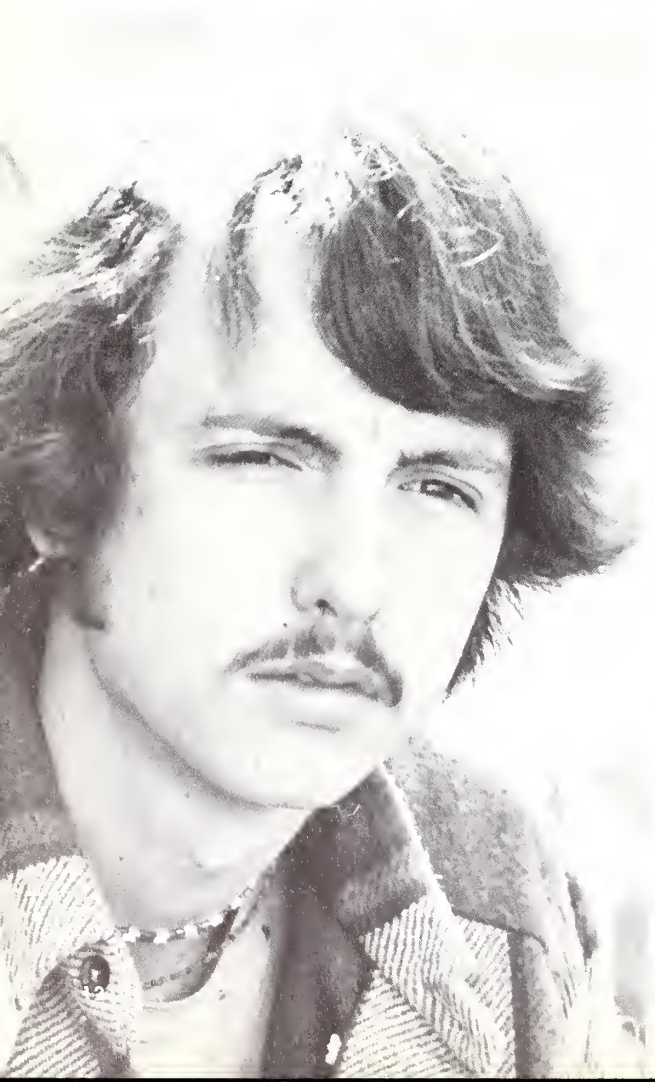

I have been really depressed — I mean to the point of giving it all up. But as the tears fall, they seem to cleanse my mind and reveal a different feeling. Then with a brand new outlook, I'm ready to re-enter the activities of life.

Sometimes I try to lock in my memory all the things that ever made me laugh, so that when I'm depressed or lonely, I can recall them and lift myself from the depths of feeling sorry for myself. I often hear people say that you always remember the good times and forget the bad. That's unfair; if I don't remember the bad times how can I judge what was good.

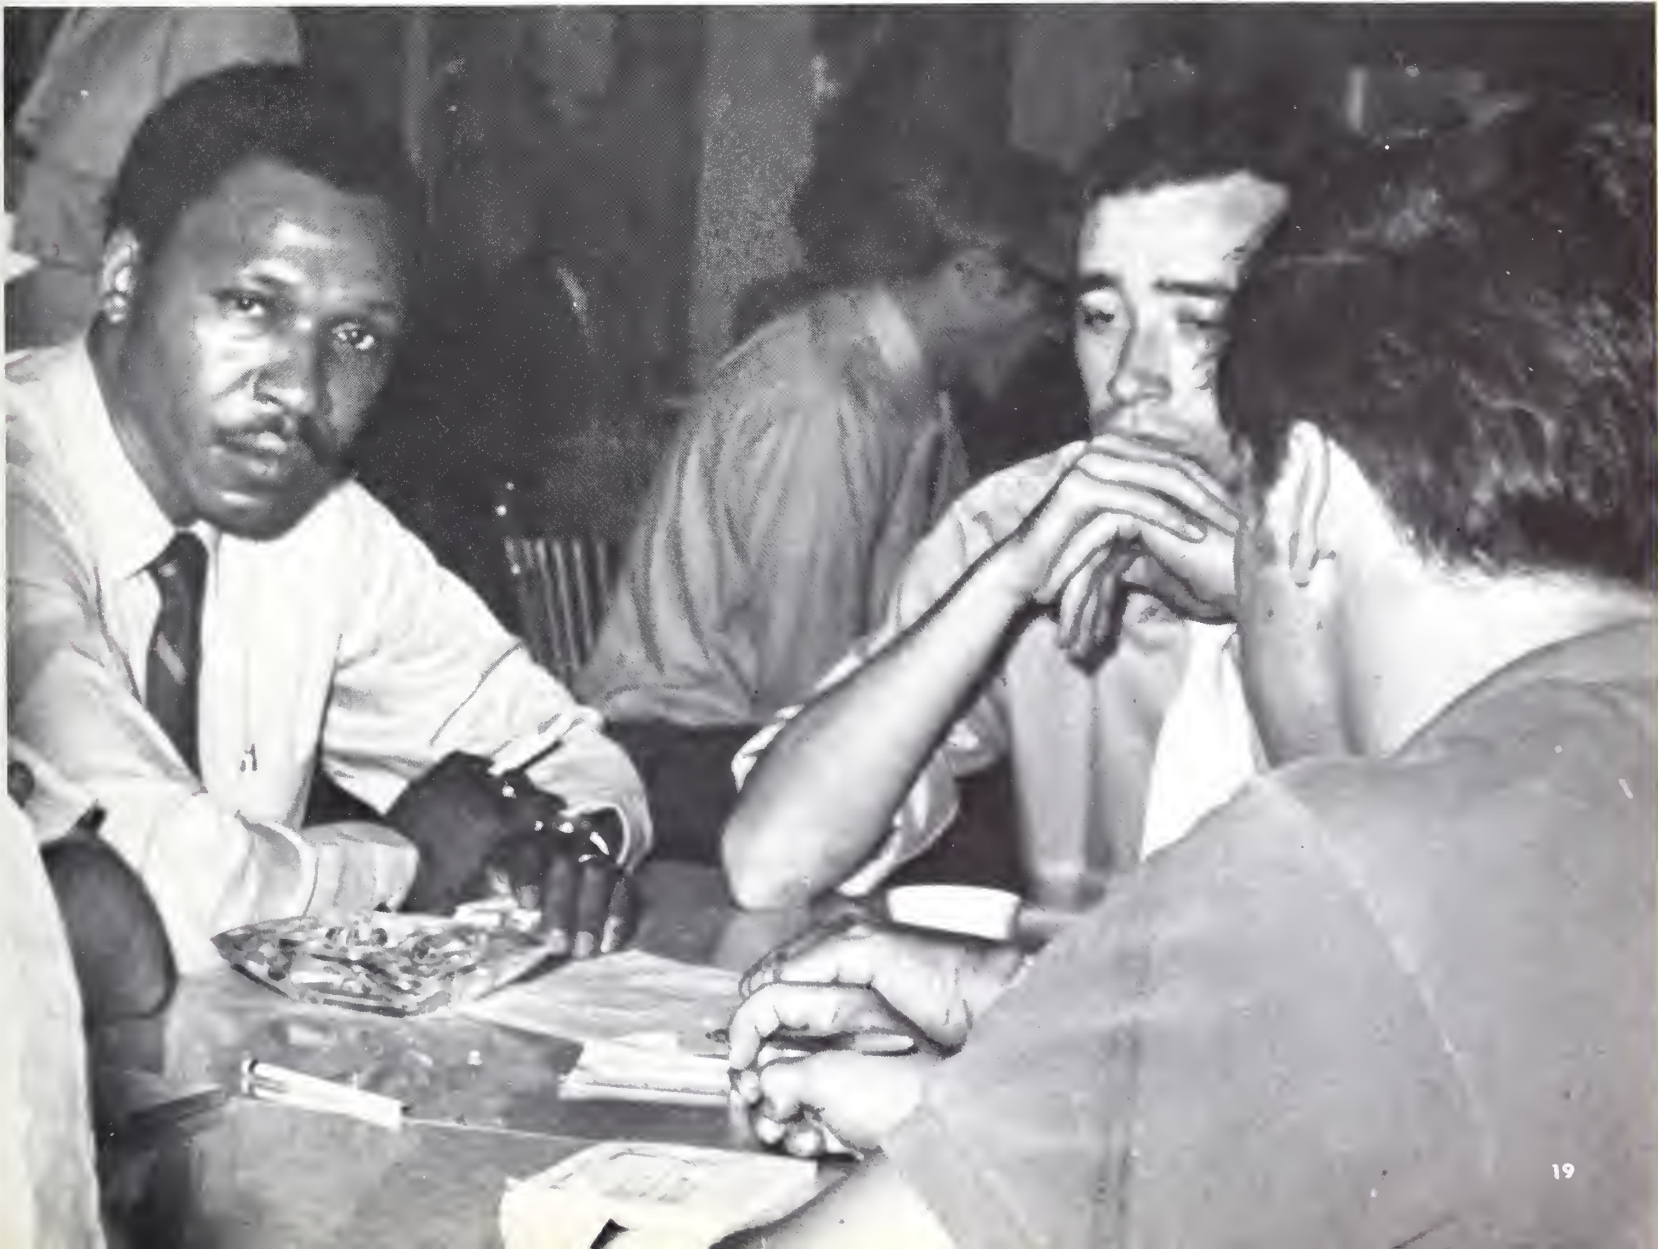

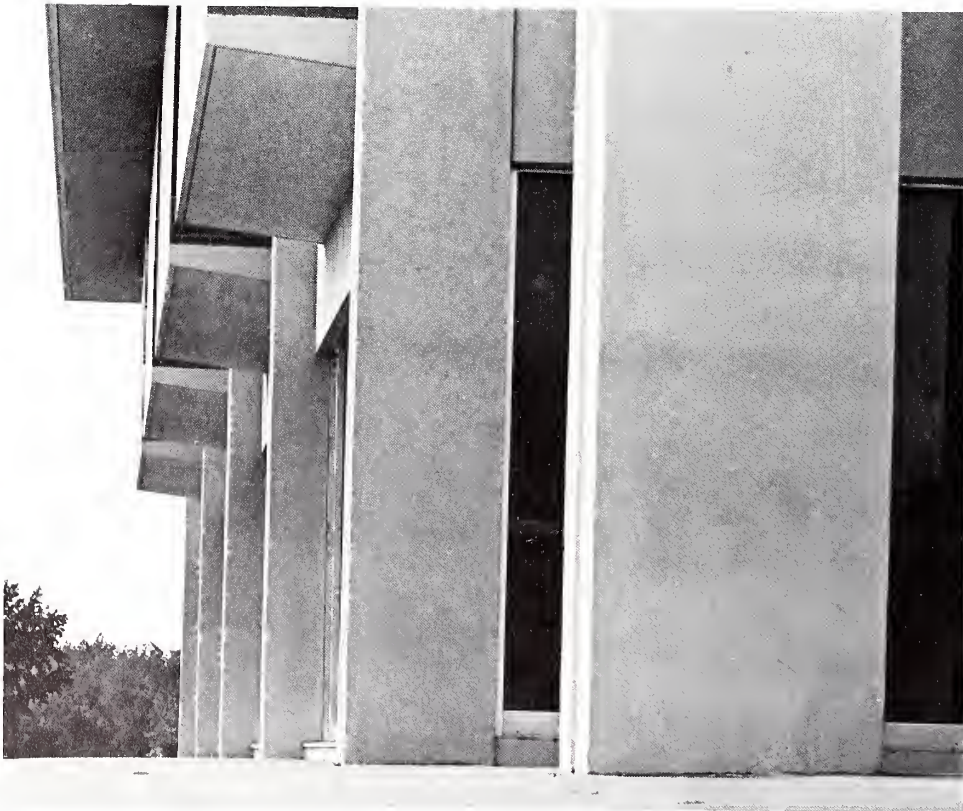

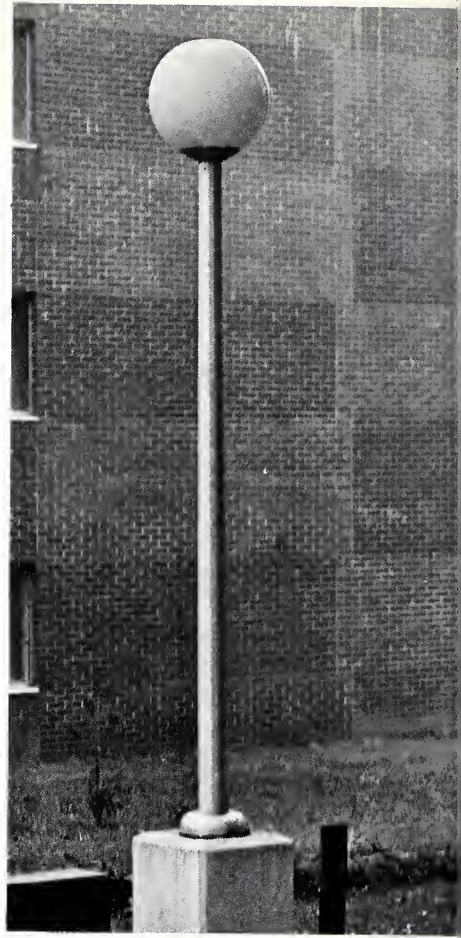

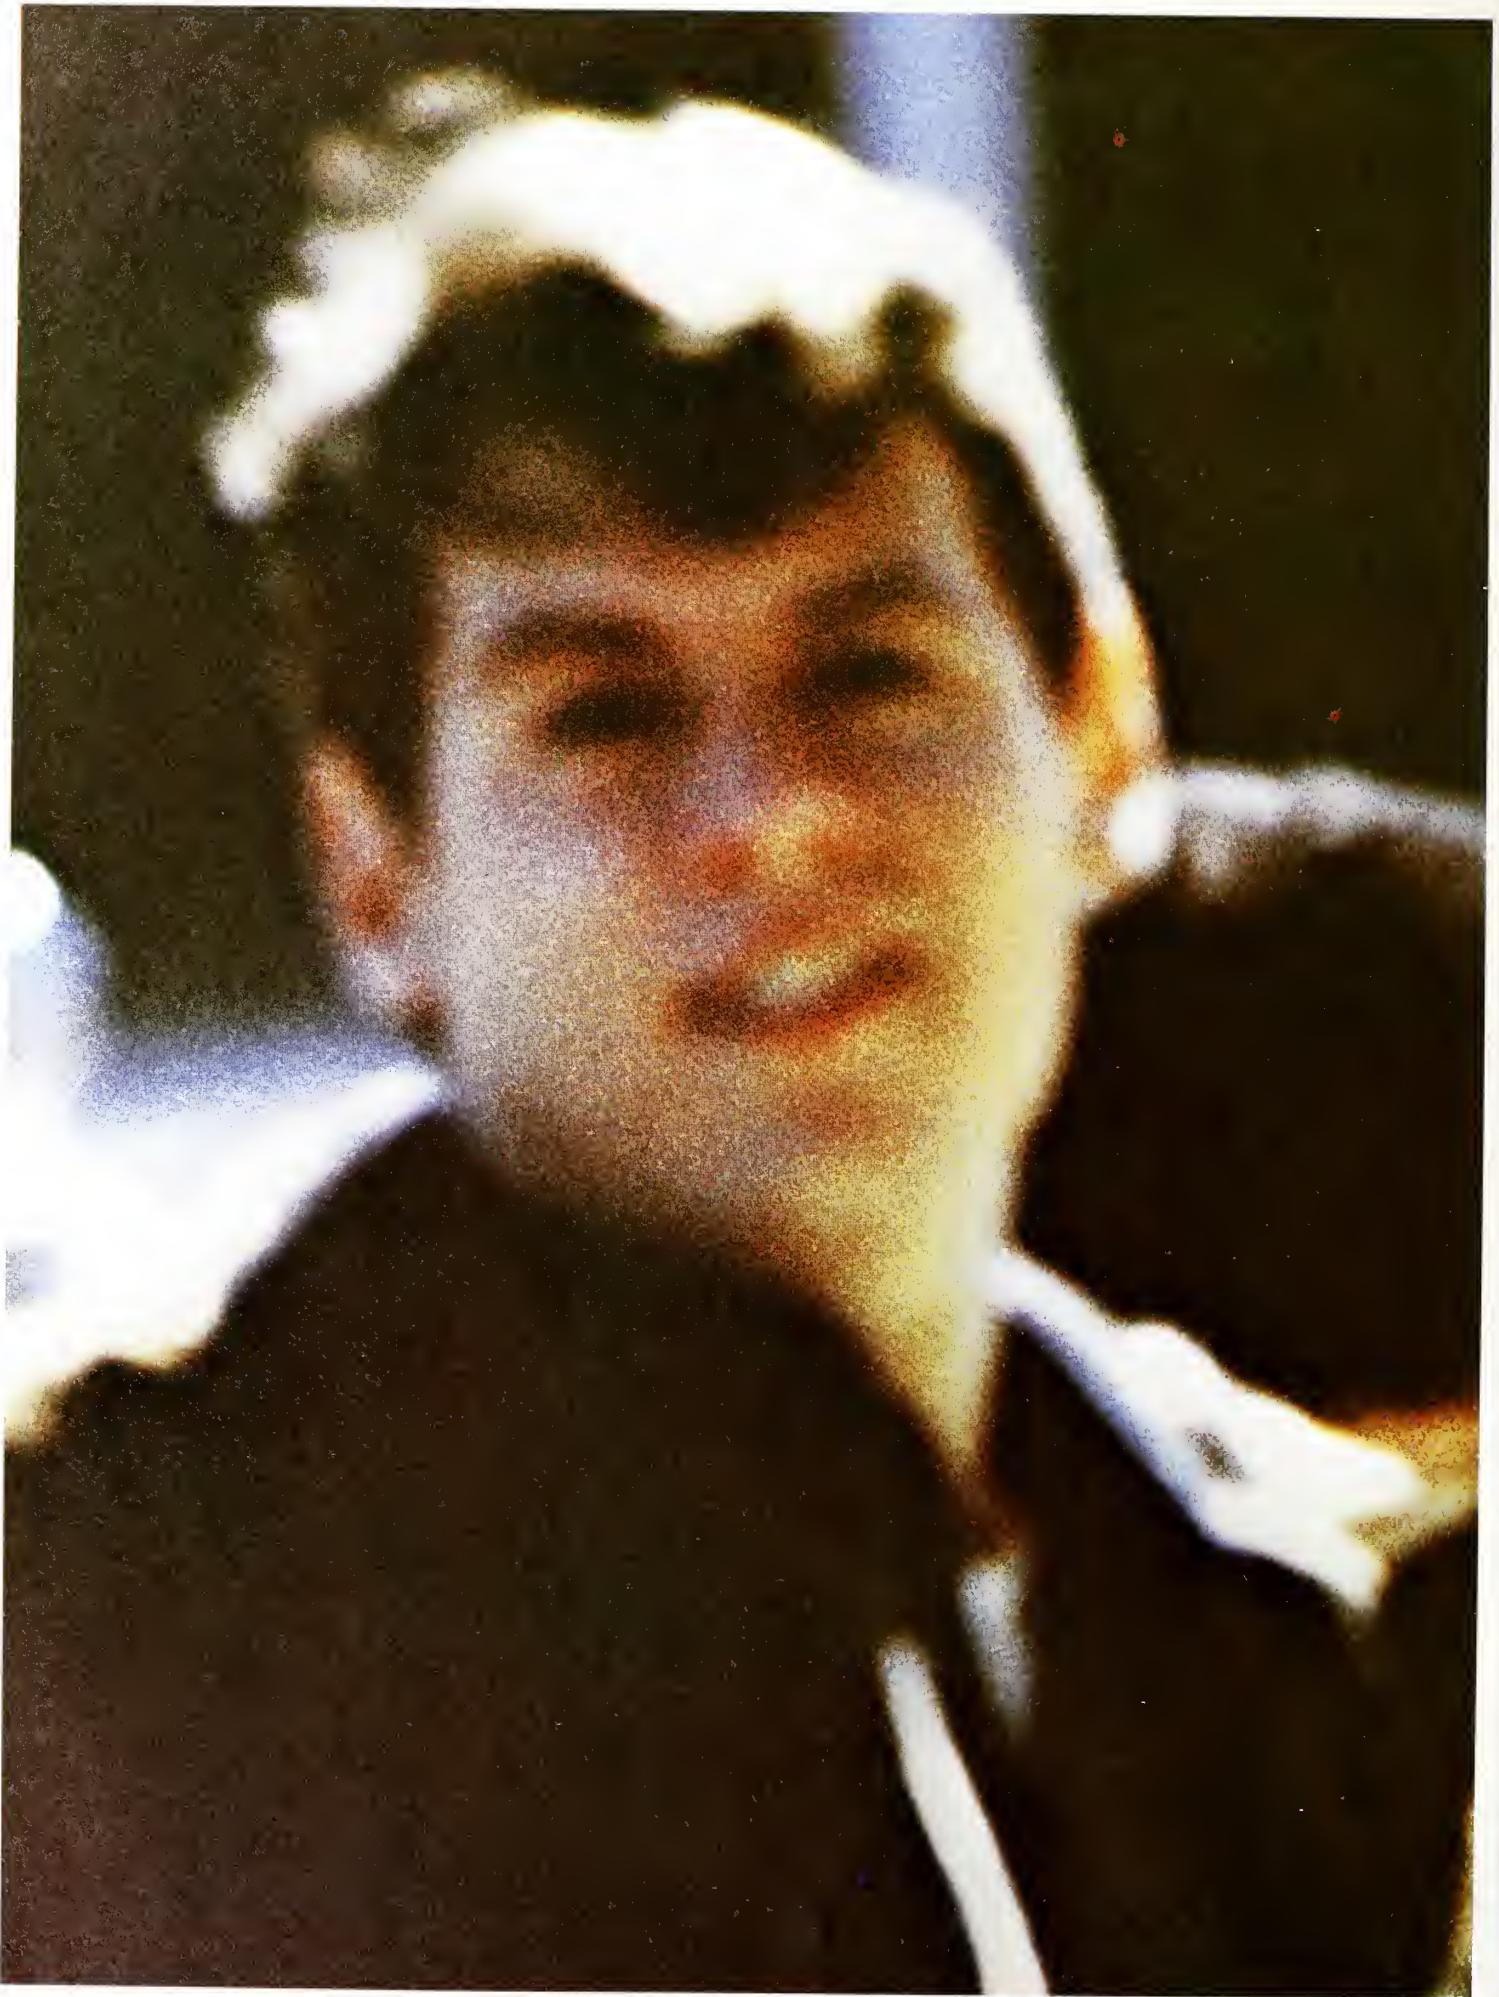

I can't remember the first time that I said I was fed up with college, but since then I know I must have repeated it hundreds of times. It's not the fact that I'm completely fed up with college; basically college is a lot of fun. It's going to classes that I'm fed up with.

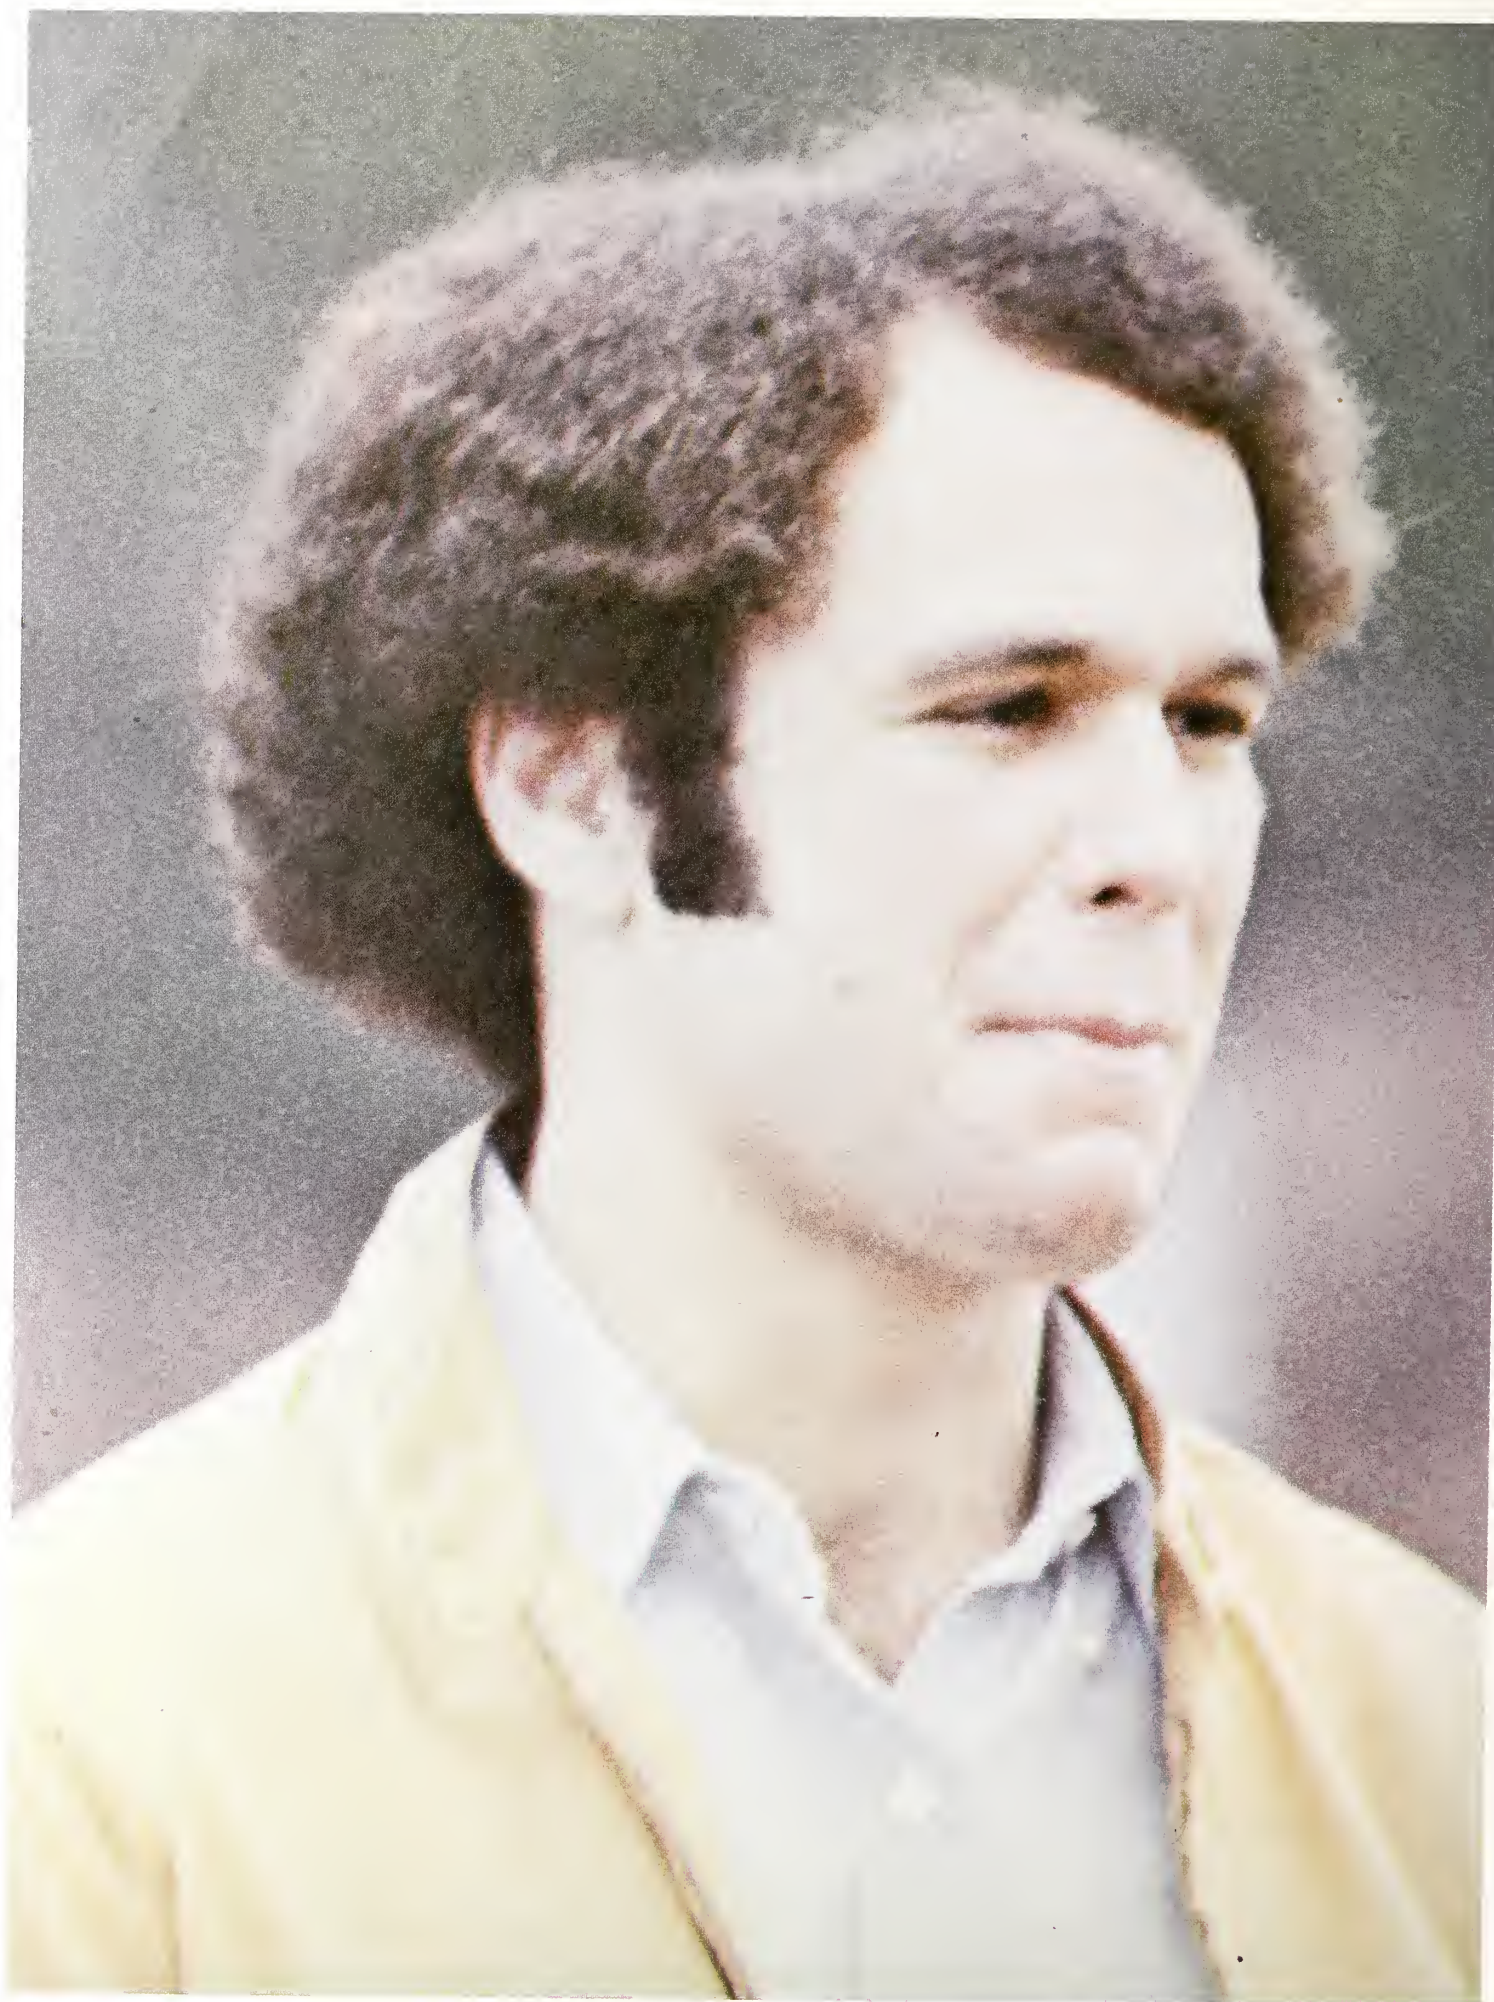

It's really odd how some people relax. My roommate prefers Santana or Chicago. My next door neighbor goes to sleep right in middle of Beethoven's Fifth; but I prefer silence, which, believe me, is very rare.

Sometimes my emotions get so bottled up inside me that I feel like I'm going to burst. When I'm really excited, it is all I can do to control myself. And when I'm angry, I'm like a tiger in a cage. But since I'm on the threshold of maturity, I have to tone down my high spirit and behave like an adult.

President Boyd

Dear Students:

Through this medium I extend cordial greetings and hopes for success to all of you.

Our institution has undergone exceptional growth and improvement in the past ten years. We have made extraordinary efforts to provide college education of superior quality to greatly increased numbers of students year-after-year throughout the decade. As a result enrollment has quintupled, and the numbers of faculty, supporting staff, programs of study and library books, as well as other educational resources, have grown correspondingly. Graduate programs have been added recently and the quality of the faculty has improved greatly. For these reasons and others, including the accomplishments of our students in intellectual competition and leadership beyond the campus, West Georgia College has been recognized as a pace-setter among the many developing state colleges and universities in America.

I am confident that our College will continue to be a pace-maker in the Seventies, and that by the end of the decade it will be one of the truly outstanding state colleges in America. I believe that you will be proud to be listed among West Georgia College's alumni and that you will continue to support enthusiastically her drive toward excellence.

With admiration, abiding faith and love,

Sincerely,
James E. Boyd
President

To President Boyd,

Because of your leadership, West Georgia College stands today, an amalgam of the tradition of the past, the vitality of the present, and the aspirations of the future. We regret your loss to the college but look forward to a continuing relationship as you assume your new duties as Vice-Chancellor for Academic Development.

Thank you,

The Students of WGC

B. J. Thomas

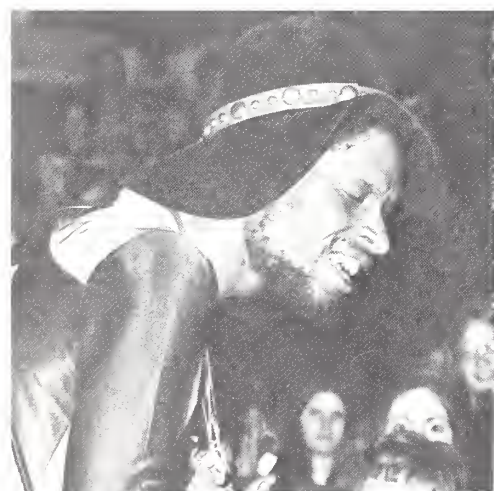

The purpose of a song is to portray an idea; the purpose of an artist is to portray the idea of a song. An artist is termed good if he can present the song as it is to be understood. He is termed great if he can make the audience feel the song and understand the idea. Performing all his hits with such grace that the audience was held in the palm of his hand until the last note was played, B. J. Thomas proved himself great.

A single performer works as a unit within himself. A duo works harder to perform as a unit. But when six single performers, each specialized in his own area, can combine, perform, and react as a unit, the results are fantastic. Such a sextet was Kenny Rogers and the First Edition, presenting each hit with such perfection of instrumental and vocal harmony that one is compelled to believe that he is hearing them on a tape or record.

Who's Who

Exactly what is college? Four years of work, tireless efforts, tears, and laughter. A student that takes upon himself obligations and responsibilities can tell you the hours that must be spent for group and individual satisfaction. A student who is elected to an office must fill the position to try and bring together student ideas and tie them in with college administration. After three or four years of this effort the college recognizes the individual for his or her achievements. After the recognition is made, the individuals are placed with their colleagues in one of the highest honors that can be bestowed on a college junior or senior. That is, being named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The Fraternity colors of red, buff, and green are found in the Fraternity Flowers, red and buff roses. Membership in Alpha Gamma Delta is an experience in modern living with the added assets of lifelong friendship and happy memories.

Delta Delta Delta

It's great to be a Tri Delta pledge and even greater to anticipate lifelong associations in Delta Delta Delta. There are three phases of membership in our Fraternity: pledgeship, collegiate chapter membership, and alumnae chapter membership. The pledge period offers you an opportunity to fulfill Tri Delta's faith in you by developing as an individual and as a contributing member of the college community.

Officers — Al Oxford — Sec.-Treas., Donnie Miller — Pres., Greg Hartsook — Vice Pres., Danny McBee — IFC Rep.

The Cavalier Fraternity was founded in January of 1968 by twenty-seven men at WGC with similar academic and social ambitions. It is a social fraternity formed for male students with high moral character, good academic standing, and a mutual feeling of brotherhood. The Cavaliers were the first fraternity to have a house, which has proved to be a unifying factor in the brotherhood of the fraternity. It provides a common point of interest where the brothers can work and party together.

Kappa Phi

Officers — David Paymer — Secretary, William Ryder — President, Jackie Collins — Social Chairman, Jerry Stienchcomb — Rush Chairman, Robby Boulis — Treasurer, David McGinnis — Vice President

Sweetheart — Bonnie Stephens

From its beginning in 1968, Kappa Phi Fraternity has grown each year in order to fill its place in the ever growing complexity of West Georgia College. Each year is marked with traditional events, such as Homecoming, Parent's Day, and the Spring Quarter Luau. However, this year has seen the fraternity work toward a new goal, affiliation with a national fraternity. In achieving this, Kappa Phi feels that all aspects of fraternity life will be improved, while each group will keep its strength through the individuality upon which it was founded.

Kappa Sigma

Founded in Italy at the University of Bologna in 1400, the Kappa Sigs proudly boast that they are "older than the United States" — a unique statement for a National fraternity. On December 10, 1869 the first American chapter was organized at the University of Virginia. The scarlet, white, and green of Kappa Sigma came to West Georgia on December 12, 1970, when the brothers of Sigma Alpha Omega were formally pledged into Kappa Sigma Fraternity. West Georgia's Kappa Sigma Colony enjoys a well-rounded social calendar each year with their Founders' Day Banquet, Luau, Dogwood Ball and frequent house parties.

Delta Kappa was the first fraternity at West Georgia to accept a bid from a national social fraternity. DIVISION OF HUMANITIES

While the curricula of the Division of Humanities are concerned with acquisition of basic skills in languages, literature, and the arts, their ultimate goal is to provide the student with a perspective for life. The Departments of English, Fine Arts, Foreign Languages, and Philosophy all emphasize the humanistic ends of knowledge and attempt to prepare students who are professionally competent and who can achieve their own identity in spite of the rapid change of contemporary society. Independent judgment and personal equilibrium, along with knowledge of and respect for differing points of view, should characterize Humanities students.

In Memoriam

This dedication is made to the memory of an individual who dreamed of a new idea and made it possible for others to enjoy the benefits of his idea. Ronald Puckett dreamed of a fraternity system at West Georgia and pursued this dream with such ardor that he was able to realize in his own time this dream.

Ronald E. Puckett came to West Georgia College from Smyrna, Georgia in 1964. From the beginning of his college career he followed a course of giving to and doing for others. In 1964, he was elected Vice President of the Freshman Class and served on the Student Organization Council. He also was a member of the Circle K during this time. In 1967 he was elected Vice President of the Junior Class. From 1965 through 1968 he served as a member of the Student Government Association. In realization of his dream of the fraternity system, Ronald Puckett founded and served as the first President of the Cavalier Fraternity in January of 1968. In addition to the founding of the fraternity, he was co-founder of the Interfraternity Council.

This dedication is made to the fond memory of Ronald Puckett by the Interfraternity Council. In this the inaugural year of national affiliation for the fraternities and sororities, it seems fitting that a moment of reflection be made to the individual whose foresight and efforts in the beginning made this possible. This section and the brotherhood it represents is therefore, dedicated with admiration and affection to Ronald E. Puckett, who died in a tragic accident while serving as a Green Beret in the Army of his country.

TO BIND MEN together in a brotherhood based upon eternal and immutable principles, with a bond as strong as right itself and as lasting as humanity; to know no North, no South, no East, no West, but to know man as man, to teach that true men the world over should stand together and contend for supremacy of good over evil; to teach, not politics, but morals; to foster, not partisanship, but the recognition of true merit wherever found; to have no narrower limits within which to work together for the elevation of man than the outlines of the world; these were the thoughts and hopes uppermost in the minds of the founders of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Tribute to a Georgian

To eulogize the late Senator Russell is a monumental task. Recorded in the Congressional Record of the 92nd Congress on Monday, January 25, 1971, is a speech delivered by Senator Herman E. Talmadge commemorating Senator Russell. No other man is more qualified to accept the challenge of appropriately remembering his close personal friend, advisor and confidant. Below are excerpts from Senator Talmadge's speech:

RICHARD BREVARD RUSSELL: A GEORGIA GIANT AND GREAT AMERICAN

"We mourn the passing of Richard Brevard Russell. We have lost a great leader. Dick Russell was one of the most outstanding Senators ever to sit in this Chamber in all the history of our Republic.

He was our friend and beloved colleague. The Senate rises today to honor his memory in a manner befitting the sterling statesmanlike character of Senator Russell, and the wisdom, courage, and dignity of this great man whom we all loved so dearly.

President Nixon called Senator Russell "one of the most magnificent Americans of all time."

When life passed from Senator Russell, that marked the end of an era in the U.S. Senate. He was the only Senator in history to serve more than half his life — 38 years — in this body. He was truly a man of the Senate. No man more than he symbolized the greatness of the Senate as a unique American institution.

The place he occupied in the U.S. Senate is now empty. There has been created a void that can never really be filled.

There will never be another U.S. Senator of the stature and indeed the grandeur of Dick Russell.

Senator Russell attained great heights. He earned immense respect and prestige. Over half a century, in various high positions of State and national leadership, power and authority were his constant companions.

But it must be said of Dick Russell that he was a humble man, even to the point almost of being shy and retiring. He was a modest man. He could sometimes be even self-effacing.

Yet, Dick Russell knew he was a Senator of considerable power and authority. But he regarded as most important, not the mere possession of power, but how it was used. He never abused authority that was accorded him. He merged the exercise of power with his innate humility. There resulted a rare blend that was worthy of the man, the office he held, and the Nation he served.

He was a jealous guardian in the Senate of what he held to be right and good. He was an indispensable ally and a resourceful foe. But through it all, in all the legislative and forensic engagements on and off the floor of the Senate, Senator Russell was above all a gentleman.

To fully assess the greatness of Senator Russell, one need only to examine the 50 years of his life that he gave to public service. All the things that he did, all the advancements and material progress that he brought to the Nation and his beloved home State, and the national security that Americans and the free world now enjoy, stand as evidence of the greatness of Dick Russell.

Such was his public record, power and prestige, that President Harry Truman wrote in his memoirs:

If Russell had been from Indiana, or Missouri or Kentucky he may very well have been the President of the United States. He had the ability, integrity, and honesty.

Richard Brevard Russell, Jr., who went on to walk with Presidents and sit on the highest and most important councils of the U.S. Government, was born — the fourth of 15 children — before the turn of the century, in 1897. When he was in the fourth grade, young Richard Russell likened himself to a star for a composition assignment. He wrote in his book:

I cannot do much to make the dark world bright. My silver beams cannot pierce far into the gleam of night. Yet I am part of God's plan, and I will do the best I can.

When he was pained by what he regarded as legalistic, unjustified tampering with the spirit and letter of the Constitution, regardless of whether it came from the executive, legislative, or judicial branches of our Government, Senator Russell never hesitated to let it be known far and wide.

This was to his everlasting credit. Before coming to Washington in 1933 as a young, new Senator, he memorized the U.S. Constitution. He took a solemn oath every 6 years since that time to uphold that Constitution. And that was what he did to the very best of his ability until his last breath.

The freedom of all Americans, their individual liberty and privacy, are more secure today because of Senator Russell. I must say in recent years we have seen encroachments on some of these freedoms and liberties. This was a great source of sorrow, and sometimes anger, to Senator Russell. But it can accurately be said that whatever erosions of strict constitutional government as have occurred came over the strong and vigorous opposition of Senator Russell. He provided brilliant and inspiring leadership for many other Senators who shared his concern for preserving the Constitution as it was written and intended by the Founding Fathers.

I know of no better way to portray my feelings about my departed beloved friend and colleague than to recall the words of Senator Russell himself in this Chamber some years ago. Senator Russell rose to rightfully express the deep sense of honor that he possessed. He told the Senate:

When the time comes for me to go out of this chamber, whether I go voluntarily, whether my commission is revoked by the electorate of Georgia, or whether I am carried out in a box, I hope it will at least be possible to say of me that I was an honorable man. I do not know of anything that might be said that would better please me.

I know of no other man who has ever served his State and Nation with more honor than Dick Russell.

I am confident that I can speak for the Senate when I say that Senator Russell was an honorable man. It is my prayer to the Almighty that the United States of America will always continue to produce such leaders, such men of iron will and devotion to duty, as the late senior Senator from Georgia."

We took a lot of pictures,

We wrote a lot of copy,

We had a lot of space,

The hours were long.
